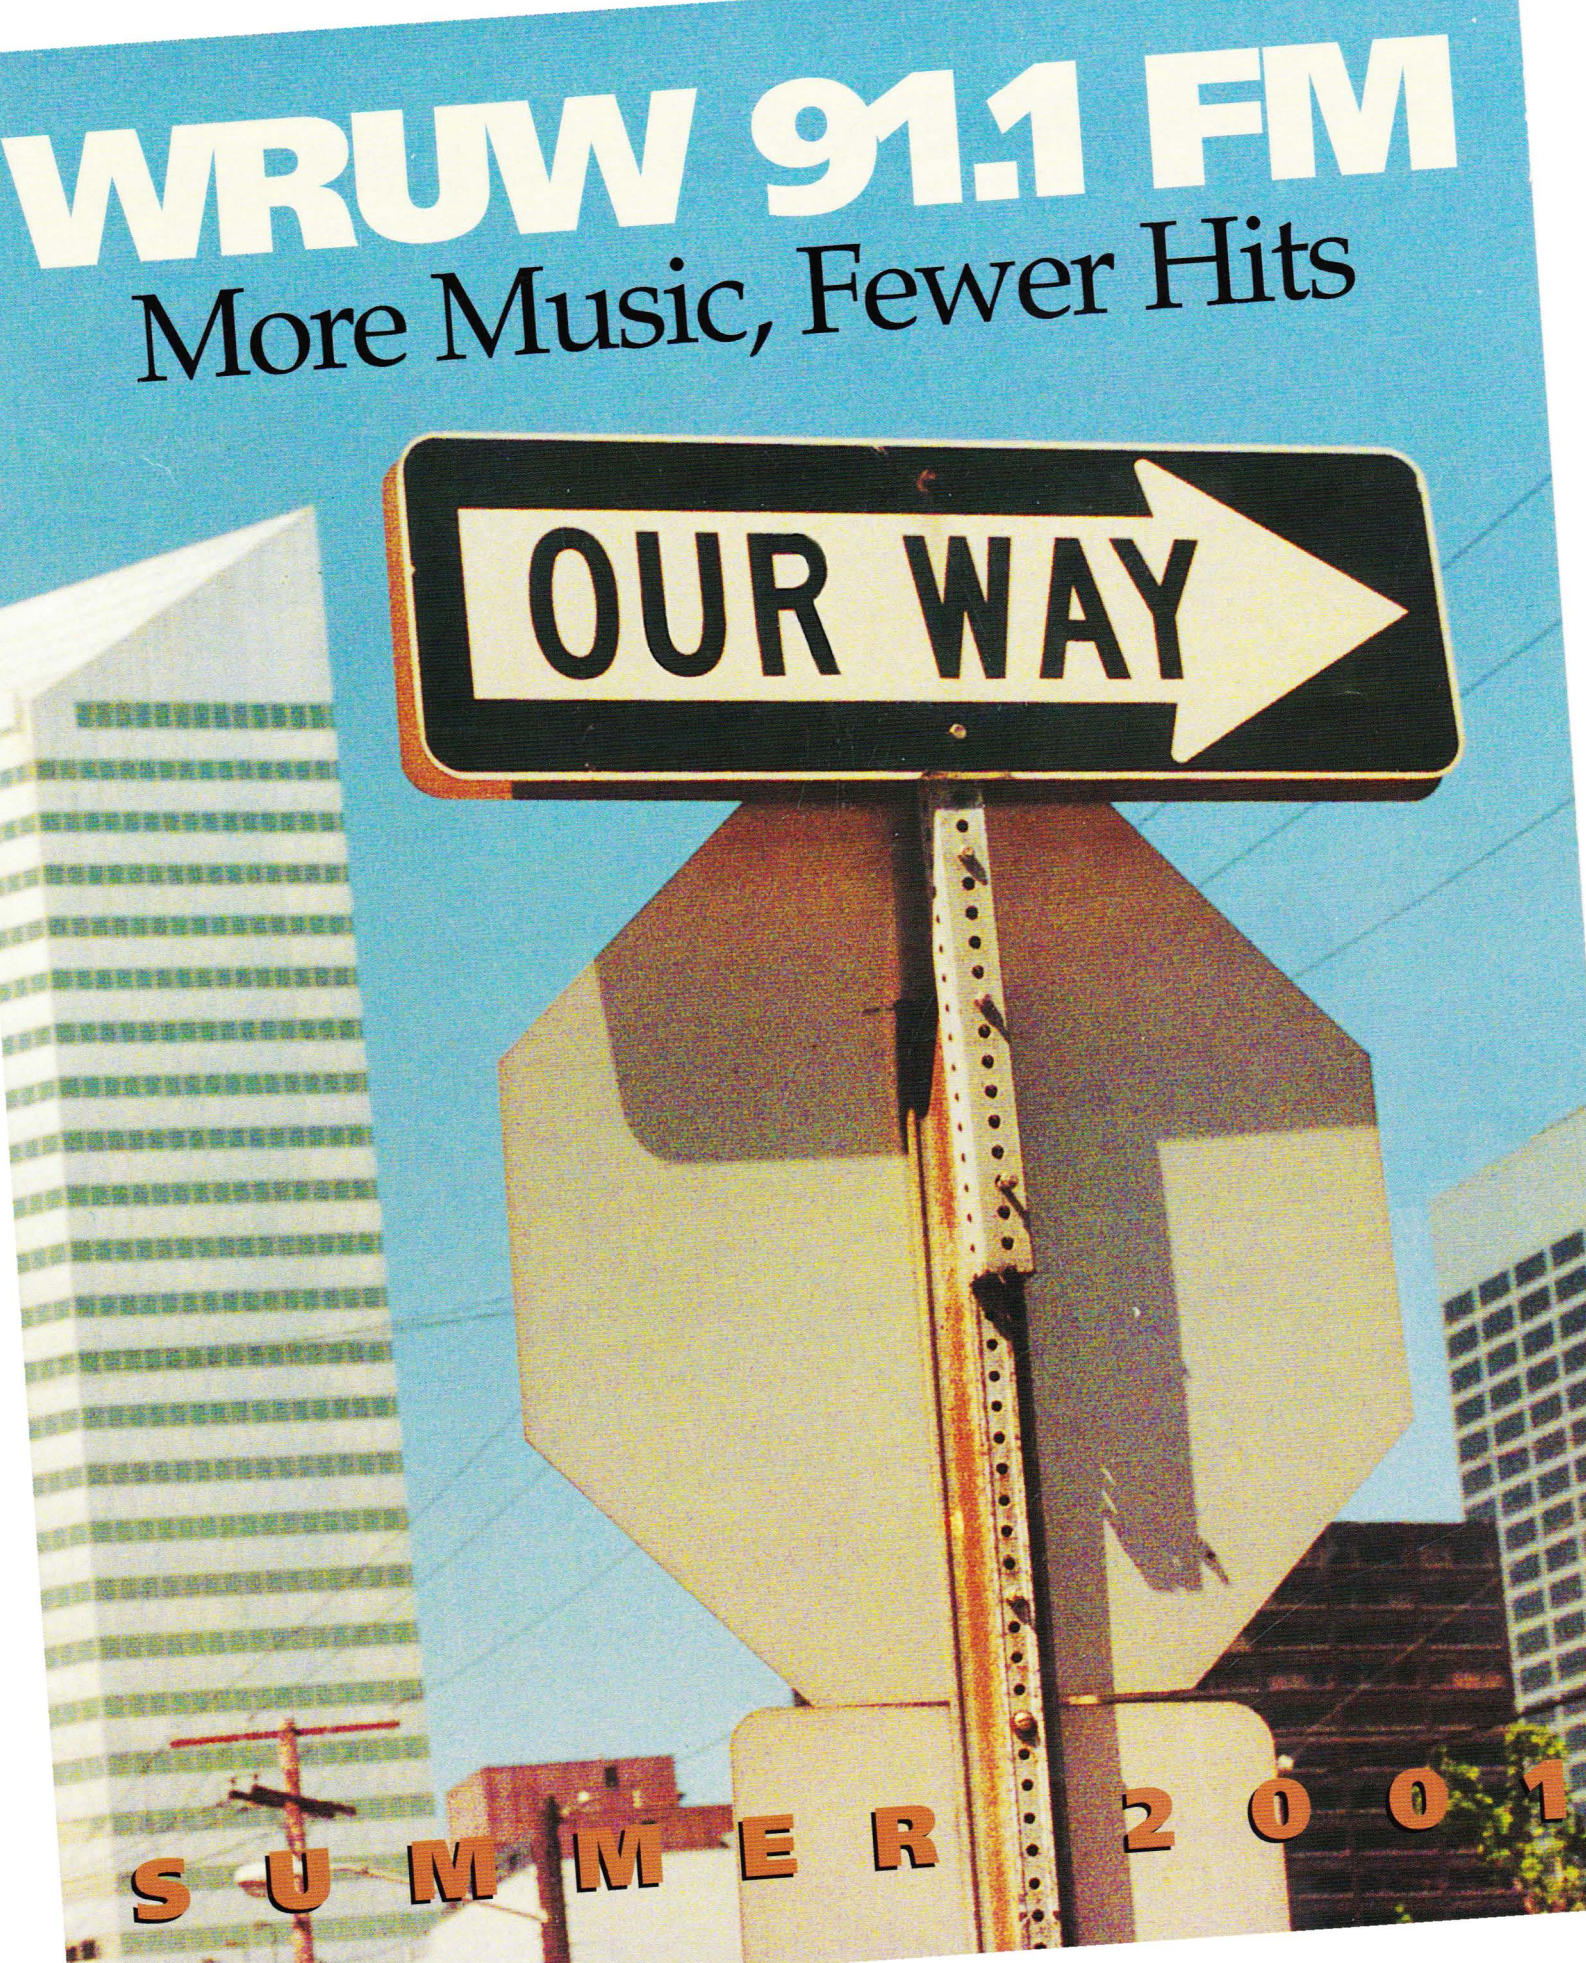
More Music, Fewer Hits



SUMMER 2001

A Note From Our General Manager...

Greetings from the front,

The last time you read one of these, WRUW-FM was limping along at 50 watts, leaving many faithful listeners out in the cold, long, winter. Today, I write to you as a witness of Spring and ReBirth, as our signal has been catapulted to 7,000 watts, a budding that will blossom to 15,000 watts by summer's end!

As we are approaching the endgame of the power increase after so many delays, we thank you for hanging tough with us. At times it was like climbing a wall that kept getting higher, as promise after promise was met with bureaucratic thickets and technical breakdowns, but the rewards are coming in: At 7,000 watts we are already reaching listeners in areas previously untouched by our signal.

New listeners mean new listeners to serve, which is what this epic struggle has always been about. The countless hours put in by WRUW staff (you continue to amaze me!) and the tens of thousands of dollars raised so far by Telethon efforts have all gone into the WRUW vision: serving as much of Cleveland as possible with diverse, relevant programming that can not be heard anywhere else. We wish we could say commercial media affords a small amount of under-represented material, but the events following the Intolerable Act of '96 have made a mainstream Cleveland radio scene downright incestuous.

The current state of radio makes a show like Press the Button all the more important, as it continues to redefine media in the aesthetic and social spheres. The Spandex Years and Pretty in Pink bring you 80's music worth remembering. A-Infos Select is a brand new public affairs show, featuring spoken word tracks from the progressive movement. Stone Cold Bikini carries on a great run of indie-rock, as we continue to air shows featuring reggae, techno, twang, and jazz.

How can we afford such diversity? We are a group of citizens that pool our experiences and resources to promote culture instead of profit. We are not "market-driven," nor do we see you as "consumers." The citizens of Cleveland have musical tastes that deserve to be represented and even challenged! Are we on a high horse? Of course we are: we're the cavalry come to rescue this 'berg. We're armed with more wattage than ever before, three different web-casting streams, a digital archive featuring a week's worth of shows, all without mentioning the experience and zeal of our programmers.

The airwaves belong to the public: they always have. Our responsibility to the license entrusted to us is an outward sign of our dedication to this city. WRUW-FM is your station, in more ways than one. We want to continue making radio something you are a part of, not something thrown at you. Thank you for the opportunity to serve.

Sincerely,

Michael
